Boy meets girl. Rémy meets Juliette. They share a passion for The Beatles Songbook. She lives in London, he lives in Paris. So Rémy gathers with his friend Julien and they start composing songs for Juliette to sing. Juliette can write too. They work from a distance, thru emails. Benjamin Biolay encourages them to record their first album, called... 'Diving With Andy'. And the band was officially born in 2006. 'Sugar Sugar' is recorded in 2009. Again, the three friends worked alone on that one. And achieved a detailed and carefully carved pop music outcome. Strings and brass subtle arrangements seem to offer a permanent invitation to daydream. Juliette's glorious and delicately veiled voice, and Rémy and Julien's elaborate compositions continue to explore the idea of a suave and languorous pop music. With us.
